Foreword

"In books lies the soul of the whole past time"

Dedication

CONTRARY TO THE BEST TRADITIONS OF YEAR BOOK DEDICATIONS, THE 1936 MILLIDEK FEELS RIGHTFULLY PROUD IN HONORING TWO MEN WHO HAVE WORKED UNCEASINGLY TO BRING FURTHER AND GREATER RECOGNITION TO MILLIKIN; IN HONORING TWO MEN WHO HAVE WORKED HAND IN HAND IN MANY SUCCESSFUL ENDEAVORS; WHO HAVE WORKED SEPARATELY IN BRINGING UNDYING FAME TO MILLIKIN THROUGH SUPERLATIVE ATHLETIC ACHIEVEMENTS, ON THE ONE HAND, AND GOOD WILL, BETTER SPIRIT AND FAR-SIGHTED PROGRESSIVENESS ON THE OTHER.

A Cappella Choir

The A Cappella Choir under the direction of Grant Hadley, is composed not only of Conservatory students but of all university students who are interested in choral work. The choir's singing has contributed much to the college chapel program. In the fall, the choir presented a beautiful production of Flotow's "Martha." In the spring the choir gave a program and performance over the radio.

Orchestra

The Millikin University orchestra under the direction of Harold Clyde Hess and Jose Echaniz, guest conductor, gave two concerts this year. On the first concert, December 13, Ruth Rink, violinist, was presented as soloist with Hess conducting and Henrietta Clark Miller, pianist, with Jose Echaniz conducting. In the spring concert, Zelna Lucas, pianist, and Veva June Appel, violinist, appeared as soloists. Mr. Echaniz conducted for the piano number.

Martha

The A Cappella Choir gave a beautiful performance of Flotow's opera "Martha." Grant Hadley directed the music; Mrs. Grant Hadley the acting; and Annette Van Dyke the dances.

Two of the loveliest arias were "The Last Rose of Summer," sung by Louise Bredehoft as Martha, and "M'Appari" sung by John Norman as Lionel, Martha's lover. A quartet composed of Louise Bredehoft, John Norman, Beulah May and Kenneth Hennessey sang the difficult "Spinning Song."

Among the prettiest scenes were those in Lady Harriet's boudoir, the county fair, and Lionel's cottage.

Formal Recitals

Several interesting recitals were given this year. The piano recitals included Zelna Lucas, a senior, who also played as soloist with the orchestra; Jane Larsen, a junior; and Henrietta Clark Miller, who is a member of the Conservatory faculty.

Those who gave voice recitals were Mary Strom, soprano, and Beatrice Hill, contralto, both juniors; Virginia Bolin, soprano, and Beulah May, contralto. Of special interest was a joint recital given by Louise Bredehoft, soprano, and Zelna Lucas, pianist, and Veva June Appel, violinist.

Informal Recitals

Each Friday afternoon at 4:30 a student recital was held in Kaeuper Hall. These short, interesting programs were free of charge and all Millikin students, faculty members and townspeople were invited to attend. The recitals were presented for the purpose of helping music pupils gain poise and self-assurance before appearing before larger, more formal audiences. Three or four students appeared on each afternoon program.

Jose Echaniz

Jose Echaniz, internationally known pianist, completed his fourth year as head of the piano department of Millikin Conservatory this year. During the past four years, Mr. Echaniz has thrilled Decatur with his concerts.

In addition to his teaching and public performances, Senor Echaniz has appeared as guest conductor of the Millikin orchestra and he has been regular conductor of the Decatur Civic Symphony. His concert engagements this year have included three appearances as soloist with the Philadelphia Symphony, twice in Philadelphia and once in New York with Iturbi conducting; two recitals in New York, one in the Town Hall and the other in the Barbizon Plaza Hotel; and other recitals in Florida, North Dakota, Washington, D. C., Wisconsin, and Texas.

Millikin Trio

Violin.....Veva June Appel

Violincello.....Virginia Bolin

Piano.....Jane Larsen

Among the most active of the Conservatory group performers is the Millikin Trio. This year, the Trio played in many of the smaller towns near Decatur; in nearly all the local club and society meetings; in Beverly Hills at the P. T. A. district convention; at the State Lions Club meet and on the new broadcasting station at Tuscola.

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia

OFFICERS

President: William Caldwell
Vice-President: Lee Hope
Secretary: Glenn Richardson
Treasurer: Morris Noland

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia was founded in the New England Conservatory of Music at Boston, Massachusetts, in 1898 and has grown to embrace 58 chapters, of which Millikin's Beta Theta is the fiftieth. Membership in Phi Mu Alpha is open to men studying music, those whose profession is of musical nature, and men who are interested in the field although they are not performers. The purpose of the fraternity is to promote music in America in every way possible, whether it be confined to the schools, churches, or to the community at large.

Student Cabinet

OFFICERS

President: Robert Linn
Secretary: Helen Ruth Chodat

The Student-Faculty Cabinet, now known as the Student Council, devoted the greater part of its meetings to the preparation of a constitution to be presented for the approval of the student body as a whole.

Functions of the Council, as performed in past years, included the nominations for and supervision of class elections, and the appointment of editors and business managers of publications. Mr. Clarence Browne was appointed by the Council as editorial advisor, and Mr. Joseph Gauger as financial advisor of the Decaturian. Dr. Hessler entertained the Council several times during the year in his home.

Athletic Board of Control

Chairman: Leo T. Johnson

Secretary: Lenore Stephenson

The Athletic Board of Control is the organization which determines the athletic policy of the university. The board is composed of the dean of the college, the athletic coaches, three faculty members, an alumnus and two students who are selected by the Student Council and elected by the faculty members of the board. This year President Hessler acted on the board in place of Dean Miller. The Dean and Athletic Director Johnson are ex-officio members. Finances of the athletic department are administered by this organization.

As in past years, the board was in charge of presenting letters and sweaters to members of the football and basketball teams.

Second row: Stacy, M. F. Wood, Smith, Fulcher, Hess.

Panhellenic

OFFICERS

President: Julia Fulcher

Secretary: Mary Frances Wood

Treasurer: Marion Carr

Social Chairman: Kathryn Stacy

The Panhellenic board consists of the president, one active and one alumnus of each women's fraternity on the campus. The dean of women is the advisor. The group governs inter-sorority affairs, particularly rushing rules.

This year Panhellenic brought to Millikin the Oberlin Girls Glee Club. The girls were entertained at a tea given in the Browsing Room in the Library. Panhellenic also sponsored the Inter-fraternity Sing on April 28. This event was originated last year on the Millikin campus, and promises to become a Millikin tradition. The annual scholarship banquet on April 3 at Aston Hall honored high scholarship among women on the campus. The guests of honor were one woman from each class with the highest scholarship, and the highest woman from each Greek-letter organization. Dr. Bell was the speaker at the banquet, and a musical program was given by Margaret Jane Storment and Jane Larsen.

Other members of the Panhellenic board are: Margaret Jane Storment, Laura Belle Scott, Margaret Prichard, Jane Larsen, Mary Tuschhoff, and Mrs. Hess, the advisor.

President: Annabel McKinney.
Vice-President: Helen Ruth Chodat.
Secretary: Ruth Rohrbaugh.
Treasurer: Dorothy Wilhelmy.
Publicity Chairman: Emily Jane Wood.
Social Chairman: Laura Belle Scott.
World Relations: Mary Tuschhoff.

The first program on Y. W. this year was a talk by Miss Flora Ross about her recent trip abroad, which was followed by a "Gypsy Tramp" through Fairview Park. At the Homecoming game Y. W. sponsored the sale of "Mums"; and held a Japanese sale at Christmas.

On the week-end of March 6, 7, 8, the Southern Illinois Y. W. C. A. Conference was held at Millikin. The hostesses and guests saw "The Would-Be Gentleman" on Friday night; several interesting meetings and programs were held Saturday; and after the semi-formal dinner on Saturday night, Bradley Tech. gave a program. The traditional Easter retreats and Vesper services were held. During May, Y. W. sponsored the annual May Breakfast and Geneva Tag Day.

Pi Mu Theta

Officers

President: Janet Alsip.
Vice-President: Virginia Baker.
Secretary Treasurer: Helen Ruth Chodat.
Marshall: Mary Frances Wood.
Faculty Advisor: Bonnie Blackburn.

Pi Mu Theta is a senior woman's honorary fraternity. In 1914, it was founded for the recognition of high scholarship and participation in extra-curricular activities. The members are elected at the end of their junior year. The members this year were Helen Ruth Chodat, Janet Alsip, Cynthia Croxton, Mary Frances Lake, Mary Frances Wood, Annabel McKinney, and Virginia Baker.

First row: McKinney, Lewis, Bean, Newton.
Second row: Ross, Kyle, Linn, Klinghoffer, Obermeyer.

Alpha Omega

OFFICERS

President: John Bean

Vice-President: Fred Newton

Secretary: Paul McKinney

Treasurer: Charles Obermeyer

Alpha Omega is the senior honorary men's fraternity and is composed of three members from each fraternity and three independents who are chosen during their junior year by the active members.

This year Alpha Omega sponsored the first dance of the year in the gym, the frosh cap sale, the Homecoming dance and at the end of the first semester, the "Flunker's Frolic." Alpha Omega was also in charge of printing and distribution of student directories, presented the award for the best decorated house at Homecoming, and furnished intramural athletic cups and medals.

Complete membership this year consisted of: Fred Newton, Forrest R. Kyle and Harry Lewis of S. A. E.; John Bean, Robert Linn and George Coutant of T. K. E.; Lewis Britton, Mellroy Ross and Paul McKinney of D. S. P.; and Charles Obermeyer, Max Klinghoffer and Herman Mehmken of the Independents.

Conant Society

OFFICERS

President: Helen Ruth Chodat
Vice-President: Mary Frances Wood
Treasurer: Emily Jane Wood
Keeper of the Archives: Annabel McKinney

Conant Society is formed of English majors of the upper classes and members invited from other departments who are especially interested in English. The society was delightfully fortunate last March in being able to give a special tea for Miss Elizabeth Drew, eminent British critic, author and playwright, at Miss Charline Wood's home. Beautifully printed cards were given to each member announcing the year's program.

Le Cercle Francais

Officers

President: Mary Frances Lake.
Vice-President: Mary Frances Wood.
Second Vice-president: Dorothy Wilhelmy.
Secretary: Margaret Mangrum.
Treasurer: Janet Patton.
Faculty Advisors: Miss Blackburn and Miss Ross.

Le Cercle Francais was organized twenty-one years ago for the purpose of improving conversation and acquainting the members with the customs and literature of France. Any student taking advanced French is eligible to membership in the club. Those who have made high grades in Intermediate French at the end of the first period are invited to join the organization. The meetings are conducted in French. The Christmas meeting was held at the Pi Beta Phi house and consisted of Christmas songs and a play. Miss Saiber from Alsace-Lorraine was a guest. Miss Ross spoke of her recent trip to Paris and showed moving pictures that she took, at the January meeting at the Delta Delta Delta house.

Town and Gown

Three major productions were presented again this year by the Town and Gown Players under the direction of Professor McNabb. Each play enjoyed tremendous success and played before a capacity audience in the university auditorium.

Elizabeth McFadden's "Double Door" was the play chosen for the Homecoming week-end, and presented Jean Davidson in the leading role. Other important roles were taken by James Hagan and Marianna Hammer. The six one-act plays presented each year by the Play Production Class were presented December 17 and 19. The plays this year were "For Distinguished Service," by Florence Knox, "The Clod," by Lewis Beach, "Tickless Time," by Susan Glaspell, "Box and Cox," by J. M. Morton, "Trifles," by Susan Glaspell, and "Wurzell-Flummery," by A. A. Milne.

"Would-Be Gentleman" (Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme) by Moliere, was presented March 6 with the capable Bushrod Sattley in the leading role. Other major parts were played by Charles Obermeyer, Helen Crowder, James Hagan, and Athalee Connally.

For the fourth consecutive year, the Town and Gown Players produced a Shakespeare play during commencement week. This year "As You Like It" was presented, with Jean Davidson and James Hagan in the leading roles.

Vice-President ..... Nancy Hedrick
Secretary ..... Ruth Edwards
Treasurer ..... Laura Belle Scott
Advisors ..... Dr. Bell, Miss Trumbo

The Home Economics Club, one of the first of its kind in the United States was organized in December, 1919. It not only enables the students of the department to keep up with the advances in Home Economics, but it also fosters development in leadership and programs along the line of the class work. The Millikin Club is affiliated with the American and the Illinois Home Economics Associations.

The Home Economics Club sold apples in the College Supply Store, and cooperated with the Town and Gown players by serving luncheons to them at two different times. They planned the Hi-Jinks party for all women on the campus and for woman seniors in Decatur and surrounding high schools.

Der Deutsche Verein

OFFICERS

President: Virginia Baker
Secretary: Martha Brown
Faculty Advisor: Miss Flora Ross

The German Club was organized in 1934 for the purpose of giving German students a chance to promote the study of German conversation and the customs of the country.

The first meeting was held at the Alpha Chi Omega house under the supervision of Miss Flora Ross who showed pictures of her trip through Germany the preceding summer and lectured on various spots of interest.

The Christmas meeting was held at the Tri-Delt house. Olive Ruth Martin read a Christmas story, Charles Obermeyer read the original Christmas story, and Robert Grissom recited two German Christmas poems. German Christmas cookies were served.

The third meeting was held at the home of Elmer Morenz. Dr. Hessler was the guest of honor and Mrs. Saiber, a resident of Decatur, spoke on her experiences in Alsace Lorraine during the World War. The members of the club met for the last time this year at a picnic.

Independents

OFFICERS

President ..... Max Klinghoffer
Vice-President ..... Rita Kell
Secretary ..... June Miller
Treasurer ..... Charles Obermeyer

The first social function of the Independent men and women was a wiener roast held on the campus followed by a dance in Aston Hall. Late in the fall, an all-Millikin dance was sponsored by the Indees in the gym, which proved to be a great success. Christmas time found the Independents sponsoring a party in the Aston Hall dining room. After a Christmas dinner, carols were sung and gifts were exchanged. The last party of the year was a dance in the spring. The party was held in the Millikin gym, and was only for the Independents.

The Alpha Chi Omega national convention and Golden Jubilee was held in June and July in White Sulphur Springs, Virginia, and Washington, D. C. Margaret Ellen Smith, official delegate, and Julia Fulcher were active members who attended the convention.

Marion Pease Danver, alumna of Upsilon chapter was appointed province president at the beginning of the year.

Julia Fulcher was president of Millikin Panhellenic, and Margaret Ellen Smith also represented Alpha Chi in Panhellenic. Roberta Beck was a member of the Student Cabinet and was named last spring in "Who's Who In American Universities and Colleges." Mary Johnson was on the Millidek staff. Jane Larsen, pianist for the Millikin trio presented a piano recital in the spring and was also on the social committee of the Junior class. Alice Younge was vice-president of the W. A. A. and a member of French Club.

The social program of the year included a Thanksgiving Sweetheart dinner, a Christmas party for actives and pledges, a Christmas formal in honor of the pledges, and a spring formal. A dinner for alumnae, actives, and pledges was given the first Monday of each month. Five pledges were given formal initiation February 26. Most of the active members attended the province convention at Madison, Wisconsin, in March.

Delta Delta Delta has many members who are outstanding on the campus this year. Mary Frances Lake was president of Le Cercle Francais and a member of Pi Mu Theta. Veva June Appel was secretary of the Senior class and received a Kappa pin. Olive Ruth Martin was assistant editor of the Millidek and was on the Student Cabinet and the Decaturian Staff. Margaret Prichard was vice-president of the Junior Class, Evelyn Hartwig was secretary of the sophomore class, and Uldine Latowsky was secretary of the freshman class. Ruth Rohrbaugh was secretary of the Y. W. C. A., Dorothy Wilhelmy was treasurer of the Y. W. C. A. and first vice-president of the French Club. Ruth Edwards was secretary of the Home Economics Club. Marion Carr, Bets Brehm, Evelyn Hartwig, Gladys Nims, and Lois Crawford were on the Millidek Staff. Ruth King, Fern Logan, and Mildred Schlie were on the Decaturian Staff.

The social activities of the Delta Delta Delta included the Christmas formal, pledge dance, spring formal, faculty dinner, dinner in honor of national secretary, the traditional Founder's Day banquet, pansy luncheon for seniors, and the pansy breakfast.

The Pi Beta Phi national convention will be held in June at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago. It will be attended by Miss Lockett, and Emily Jane Wood, the official chapter delegate. Since Illinois Eta plans to be hostesses one night several other Pi Phis plan to attend. Mary Frances Wood is secretary of Panhellenic, and vice-president of the French Club. Janet Alsip is president of Pi Mu Theta, vice-president of the Senior class, and Editor of the Decaturian. She also received a scholarship to the University of Illinois to obtain her Master's Degree for next year. Helen Ruth Chodat was vice-president of Y. W. C. A. and secretary-treasurer of Pi Mu Theta. She was awarded the Kappa Key for outstanding scholarship. Beatrice Hill pledged S. A. I. Janet Patton is treasurer of the French Club. Emily Jane Wood is Editor of the Millidek, and Society Editor of the Decaturian. Mary Frances Wood, Helen Ruth Chodat, and Emily Jane Wood are officers of Conant Society.

This year, Illinois Delta of S. A. E., joined in the celebration of the Eightieth Anniversary of the founding of the fraternity. Nationally recognized as the largest national collegiate fraternity, numbering one-hundred and ten chapters, the Decatur celebration consisted of a Founders Day banquet at the chapter house, and was attended by the entire active chapter, and a delegation of sixty of the alumni of the local alumni chapter.

Results of the class elections gave Fred Newton and Phil Miller presidency of the Senior and Freshman classes respectively, and Bay Gravenhorst treasurer of the Sophomore class. Representing athletics, Rademacher, Matthew, and Taylor were members of the football squad; Taylor also played varsity basketball, Kyle is a member of the golf team; and Dawson carries the Blue and White on the swimming team. Bud Lewis has served for three years as cheer leader for the school; Kuhle is intramural manager for the school; Kyle is Business Manager of the Decaturian; and Charles Young is Business Manager of the Millidek. Newton, Lewis, and Kyle are the three S. A. E. representatives in Alpha Omega. "Sig" received international publicity throughout the last year, as being the only dog to ever receive a college degree.

Three farewell parties were given during the year; the first for Clarence Deakins, the second for Don Baker, and the third for ten graduating seniors. At the senior banquet, awards were presented to those seniors who have been prominent in school activities during their college career.

The Tekes started the year by winning, for the second consecutive year, the tin loving cup presented for the best stunt at the Millikin Mixer by Alpha Omega. A feature of the fraternity's social program this year was the all campus "Crow dinner," the first of its kind in the Midwest. John Bean was elected president of Alpha Omega; Robert Linn was president of Student Cabinet, a member of Alpha Omega, and was represented in the "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." Paul Brown was on the debate team and served as Senior class treasurer. Frank Benson was also on the debate team and president of the Junior class. George Coutant was a member of Alpha Omega, and Raymond Adams was on Student Cabinet. Dan Hallihan and Roy Corzine both played varsity football and the former was on the basketball squad. Robert Cobb was Junior class treasurer, and John Williams Sophomore president. William Davis was taken into Phi Mu Alpha, sang in the choir, and played leading roles in both "Martha" and "The Would Be Gentleman." A September rushing dance opened the Teke social affairs and was followed by a Harvest dance in November and the annual Christmas formal. A spring formal dinner dance and a May breakfast completed their social calendar.

For the third consecutive year, Coach Leo Johnson's Millikin football team went through its Illinois Collegiate conference schedule undefeated and for the second consecutive year laid claim to a share of the mythical conference championship. The Big Blue turned back four conference teams—Illinois College, Illinois Wesleyan, Lake Forest and Bradley—to tie Monmouth, which had an identical record of wins and losses, for the title.

The 1935 Millikin team was almost a direct antithesis of the powerful eleven which represented the Blue in 1934. True, its conference record was as satisfactory, but the long trail that led to a championship was a rocky and at times disheartening one. Injuries and ineligibilities plagued the Blue from the first game of the season and it was only the ability of Coach Johnson to train freshmen and inexperienced reserves at a moment's notice that kept the victory march going.

The Blue suffered the loss of two stellar stars before the season ever started. Earl Weise, fullback, and Loyle Davis, end, both stars on the 1934 eleven, did not return to school. Then, in the first game against Ripon, Wilber "Nick" Gilbert, 200 pound one-armed tackle, broke three bones in his foot and was out for the remainder of the season. In the second game against Illinois College, Captain Fred Christman, the other 200 pound tackle, broke a collar bone and was forced to the sidelines for the rest of the season.

As if that wasn't enough, several other players upon whom Johnson placed great value were shipped to the sidelines at different times during the season because of injuries or scholastic difficulties. Among these were Carl Burgener, flashy halfback; Bill Giraitis, all-star end; Gene DeRochi, powerful freshman fullback; Roy Hindman, elusive halfback; and Cecil Garriott, fleet-footed halfback. There was always someone, however, whom Johnson found to fill a vacated spot and he always gave a sparkling exhibition.

As is usually the case on a Johnson-coached football team, no single individual could be pointed out as the "star." There were many who had their turn to stand in the spotlight of fame and all for good reason.

In a backfield that ranked as the smallest in the conference, Carl Burgener, sophomore from Assumption, probably was the brightest of the stars. Fast and tricky afoot, Burgener was the Blue's greatest scoring threat and he fulfilled his reputation. His best game of the season was against Illinois College when he turned in two sensational touchdown runs besides playing a superlative defensive game.

Another "jackrabbit" back was Cecil Garriott, Argenta sophomore, who did not come out for football until the Tuesday before the Wesleyan game. Robbed of backfield talent by injuries, Johnson called Garriott out to practice against the wishes of major league baseball scouts in an effort to strengthen the team. Garriott's running helped the Blue greatly against Wesleyan and he was an important figure the remainder of the season.

It was for the Wesleyan game that Johnson was forced to groom Gene DeRochi, Taylorville freshman, for the fullback position. Ordinarily a blocking back, DeRochi was switched into a plunging role and he responded gloriously, knifing through the Titan line for consistent gains.

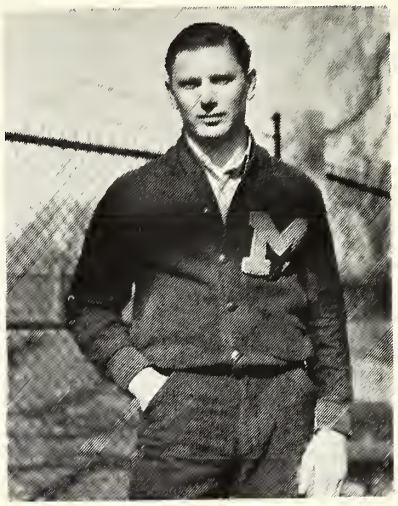
While it was the running back who scored the touchdowns and got the headlines, for the second year it was Ralph Allan and Steve Lenich who did the dirty work. They were blockers. Both past masters at the art in 1934, they widened their scope in 1935 and took on extra duties. Twice Allan galloped out to catch touchdown passes while Lenich, after the first two games, took over the signal calling business.

Filling out the backfield roster were Roy Hindman, sophomore halfback; Burnell Fischer, freshman halfback; John Rochkes, freshman fullback, and Glenn Claudon, junior quarterback.

The line that opened the holes for the backfield was characteristic of Millikin forward walls. For three straight years Millikin football victories have been easier because of an impregnable defense. In these three years only two touchdowns have been scored by a conference team from a running play and both times long passes placed the ball on the Blue's goal line.

SKULL SCRIMMAGE

FRED CHRISTMAN
Captain



WILLIAM GIRAITIS
Captain-Elect

The stars in the line were many. Two of the brightest were Don Lauher, senior guard, and Bill Giraitis, junior end and captain-elect of the 1936 eleven. Lauher, who was appointed acting-captain after Fred Christman was injured in the second game of the season, proved to be an inspirational leader as well as a real football player. A large majority of Millikin's gains were aimed over Lauher and he seldom failed to have a wide hole open for the backs.

Giraitis was one of the ablest all-around players. For two years one of the classiest pass snatchers in the conference, Bill was turned into a passer during the 1935 season because no one else filled the job as capably as he. He threw three touchdown passes during the season, two of them against Illinois Wesleyan. He found time to snag a touchdown pass, block punts, provide interference and play a whale of a game at defensive end.

Throughout the rest of the line, play was equally as brilliant. Frank Courtright played at both tackle and end and carried the brunt of the punting. George Dixon was a capable end. Mellroy Ross held down a tackle position with his usual consistent performances. Al Hendricks, a freshman and Paul Lipinski teamed up with Lauher as the guards while Pete Rademacher and Don Stiens divided the center duties. Other reserves who saw service were Thompson, Freiberg, Russell, Heggie and Matthew.

At the end of the season letters and sweaters were awarded to Fred Christman, Don Lauher, Mellroy Ross, Herman Mehmken, Walter Rademacher, Bill Giraitis, Steve Lenich, Ralph Allan, Carl Burgener, Cecil Garriott, Gene DeRochi, Paul Lipinski, Nick Gilbert, Albert Hendricks, Don Stiens, Roy Hindman, George Dixon, John Rochkes and Frank Courtright.

The 1935 eleven scored 89 points and gave up 23 in six games. In the four conference games it scored 63 points and allowed 17. Burgener, Giraitis, and Lauher were mentioned on various all-conference teams.

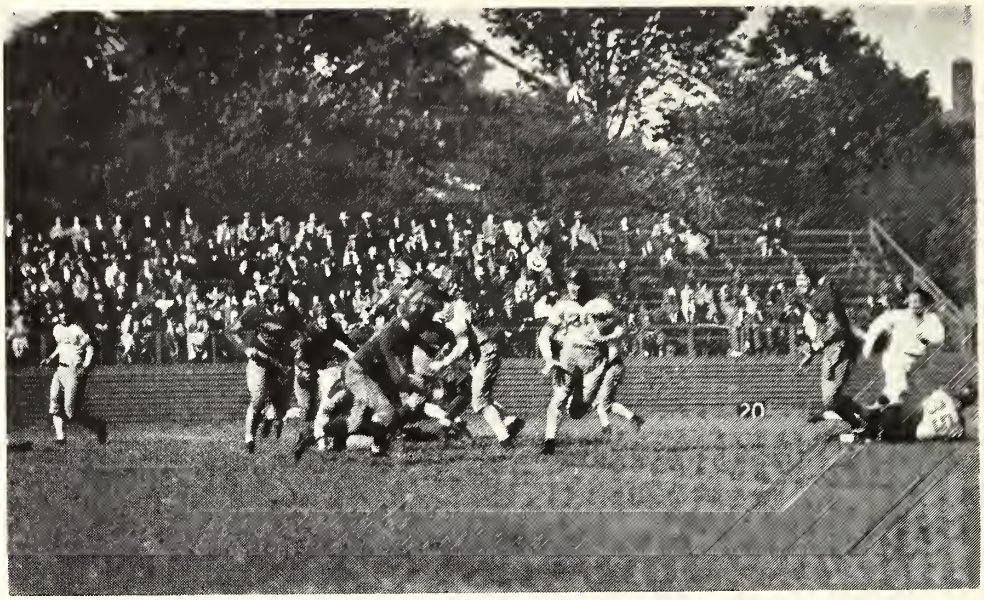
It was the sixth undefeated conference season for Coach Leo T. Johnson in the 12 years he has been at the head at Millikin. Wayne "Hank" Gill was, of course, assistant coach. Fred Newton, Jr., was senior manager and was assisted by Dale Bell, Brud Folrath, Dick Huff, Bill Burns, and Harold Harris.

Millikin's offense failed to click in its opening game with Ripon and the Indians from the north went home 6 to 0 winners, their touchdown coming as the result of an intercepted pass followed by a 95 yard run.

Illinois College furnished the Big Blue with its first conference game and got away to a 3 to 0 lead in the first quarter on a field goal. Burgener broke loose around his right end in the second quarter and ran 70 yards for a touchdown. Christman's placement gave the Blue a 7 to 3 lead. In the third quarter Giraitis blocked a punt and Courtright recovered on Illinois College's 20 yard line. Burgener immediately scampered the 20 yards to the goal and Christman again converted. Illinois College scored again later on a pass. Besides starring in a running role, Burgener played a sparkling game on defense, two timely tackles preventing Illinois College touchdowns.

Wesleyan provided Millikin's opposition for the Homecoming battle and the Big Blue, riddled by injuries, resorted to an aerial game to repulse the Titans. In the first quarter Giraitis took a lateral and threw 35 yards to Dixon, who stepped out of bounds on Wesleyan's two yard line. Rochkes slipped over the goal after DeRochi failed twice but Gene place kicked the extra point. In the third quarter, fourth down on Wesleyan's seven yard line, Giraitis again took a lateral after a triple pass behind the line of scrimmage and threw to Allan in the end zone for a touchdown. A pass, Cochrane to Hawkins, tallied Wesleyan's touchdown in the final quarter and made the score 13-7.

EVEN THE STRONG . . .



HINDMAN BREAKS INTO THE OPEN

Lake Forest was the third conference victim, 24 to 0. In the first quarter Garriott ran 14 yards around his own right end for a touchdown. In the second period Allan threw a 25 yard pass to Giraitis who caught the ball on the 15 and ran over the goal. In the final period Giraitis passed 18 yards into the end zone to Allan for a touchdown and later Hindman ducked around left end for two yards and a score after he had personally conducted a 60 yard march down the field.

Millikin had little trouble in turning back its non-conference foe, Valparaiso, 26 to 0. Ross fell on a blocked punt for a touchdown in the first quarter and a few minutes later Burgener took a pass from Allan and made a beautiful 55 yard run for a touchdown. In the second period Claudon sneaked over from the one yard line after Rochkes and Fischer had played important parts in lugging the ball down the field. Rochkes scored from the 15 yard line on two smashes at the line in the final quarter.

With a share of the conference championship hinging on the Bradley game, Millikin battled through four cold, snowy quarters before emerging victorious, 12 to 0. Bradley threatened several times in the first quarter but Millikin held. The Blue had scoring chances several times in the second and third quarters through the running of Burgener and Garriott, but fumbling spoiled the chances. Then in the final quarter, with eight minutes remaining, the Blue went to work.

Garriott ran 26 yards to Bradley's one yard line where he was pushed out of bounds. On the next play Burgener went over standing up. A few plays later Garriott ran from his own 30 to Bradley's 40 yard line, Burgener picked up five, and Garriott then ran right end for 35 yards and a touchdown.

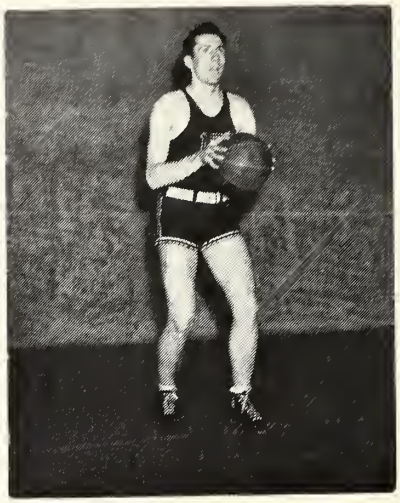
CAPTAIN MELVIN GOLDMAN



JAY GLYNN

In a season reminiscent of the trials of the football squad, James Millikin's basketball team emerged with a record typical of the character of the team. Nights when the whole team was "cold" popped up to cast shadows on the final record while ineligibilities, sickness and injuries hampered the Johnson quintet throughout the home stretch of the schedule.

Regardless of these factors, the Big Blue finished the season with a record of 11 victories and six defeats. In Little Nineteen conference play Millikin won nine and lost five, good enough to place the Blue and White well up the list in the final standings. Several of the checks in the win column were marked down as upsets and the same can be said of the loss column.

Three of Millikin's five conference losses were suffered after Delmar Cox, six foot four inch center, had felt the scholastic ax at the end of the first semester. Starting slowly, Cox had reached top form at the end of the first semester, scoring 37 points against Bradley and Augustana. The loss of his scoring ability and height was felt keenly. Captain Melvin Goldman was slowed down by illness near the end of the season and Jay Glynn, suffering from a sprained ankle, played only part time in the final three games. Both forwards missed one entire game.

Goldman led the team scoring with 129 points, scored in 16 games. He had three big nights, collecting 18 points against McKendree, 15 against Illinois College and 14 against Augustana. He failed to score in only the Macomb fracas. Glynn was third in the scoring race with 91 points, tallying 16 of the points against Eureka. He scored in every game. Burnell Fischer, Dale Coslet, Cecil Garriott and William Daigh were reserve forwards during the season, the first two named being especially valuable.

In the ten games Cox played in he rang up 100 points to take second honors in the scoring. James Helfrich, Cox's successor, tallied 23 points in 12 games.

The two senior guards—Archie Van Ausdal and Dan Hallihan—pushed in 78 and 75 points, respectively, and played in every game. Hallihan was one of the smallest guards in the conference but gained quite a name for himself through his fast, energetic play. Aubrey Taylor, freshman guard, turned in several valuable performances before an injury forced him out of competion just before the end of the season.

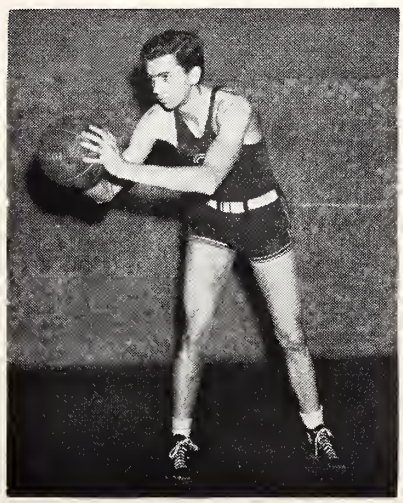
Millikin opened the season with a surprising victory over the University of Iowa, 32-30, but failed to continue its "giant" killing act against the great Notre Dame quint. The Irish won, 58-30. The Blue ended its pre-conference warmup by nosing out Cape Girardeau, 31-30.
Goldman's 18 points led Millikin to its first conference triumph over McKendree, 46-27. He was still "hot" against Illinois College and the Blue gained part revenge for two last year defeats by thumping the Van Meter quint, 33-27. Glynn and Cox featured Millikin's attack as Eureka became the third loop victim, 45-25.

The first conference defeat came at the hands of Illinois Wesleyan, ultimate champions, at Bloomington, 42-24. Millikin kept in the ball game the first half but fell behind during the second 20 minutes. The second straight defeat came from the Macomb Teachers, 24-13, on one of those nights when the Blue was like the weather—cold.

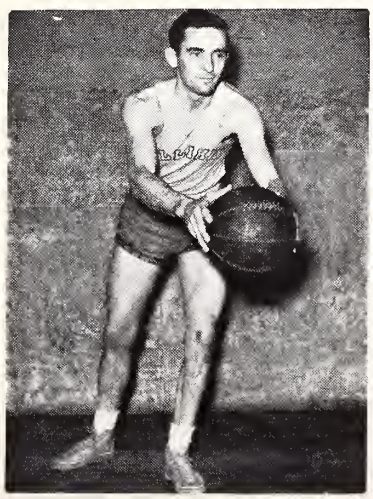
The night after the Macomb setback Coach Johnson juggled his lineup and as a result Millikin won from DeKalb, 39-28, with Burnell Fischer pacing the scoring.

Goldman, Glynn and Cox flipped in 41 points as Millikin crushed Bradley Tech at the Armory, 53-27, and set the stage for the greatest victory of the season. Augustana College came to Decatur with a string of 19 consecutive basketball victories but Millikin's big guns fired loud and long to wreck the Viking's winning streak, 48-33. Cox scored 21 points and held the Augie's six foot ten center pointless.

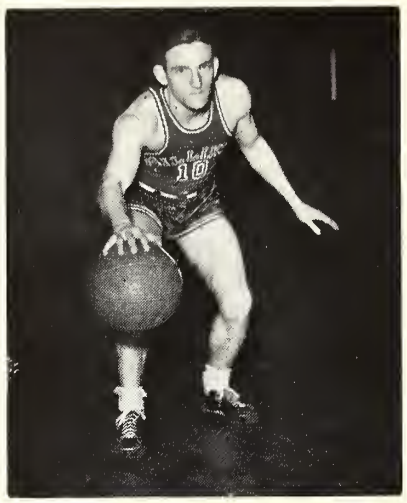
Millikin's next game was a complete contrast, the Blue hitting a new low in scoring as State Normal chalked up a 30-12 decision.



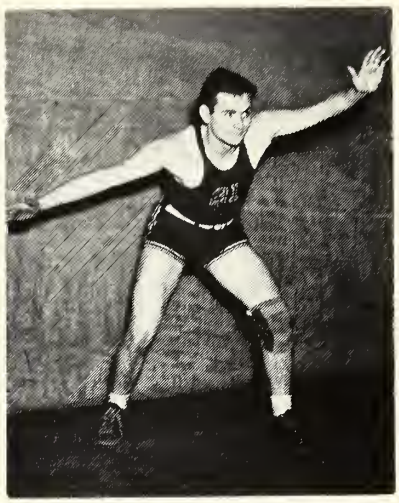
DELMAR COX



ARCHIE VAN AUSDAL



DAN HALLIHAN



AUBREY TAYLOR

The Johnsonmen completed their revenge act against Illinois College in the next game, however, winning 31-22. Eureka then fell for the second time, 36-32, in a game which found Millikin playing without the services of Goldman, Glynn and Cox for the first time in three years. Van Ausdal and Hallihan carried on however, with valuable assistance from Fischer, Coslet, Taylor and Helfrich.

The Blue next turned in a brilliant 33-29 triumph over State Normal as Goldman led a flashy last half rally. Hallihan's 11 points also featured the victory. Millikin dropped its last road game to Bradley, 34-26, and then came back to the Armory to battle Wesleyan to the last ditch before losing, 33-32. A desperate Titan rally in the closing minutes was all that saved the Bloomington crew from its first defeat. Goldman and Van Ausdal, played their last game, tallied eight points each while Hallihan, the other senior on the squad, collected three.

At the end of the season Captain Goldman was placed on almost every All-Star selection chosen while Cox and Hallihan received honorable mention on several.

Following is the individual scoring for the season:

Baseball

Although the 1935 Millikin baseball team spent most of its time watching the rain wash out numerous games, it did find time between showers to play 13 tilts—winning six and losing seven. Two of the games were pre-season affairs with the Decatur Commies of the Three-I league and two were non-conference battles with Washington University of St. Louis. In Illinois Collegiate conference competition the Blue won four games and lost five.

Herman Mehmken and "Lefty" Hopkins formed the Big Blue pitching staff and turned in several creditable performances. Mehmken whipped the Charleston Teachers and Eureka in loop games and allowed but four hits in turning back Washington. He suffered four defeats. Hopkins, who did not reach his real hurling peak until the rain and cold weather gave way to sunshine, won two and lost two games—winning conference decisions over Normal and Eureka.

Cecil Garriott, speedy center fielder, was the hitting star of the Blue nine, finishing well up the list in the final conference standing. Bill Giraitis, Paul Lipinski, Archie Van Ausdal and Junior Marshall also wielded a potent bat throughout the season.

In two exhibition games with the Commies, Millikin won the first tilt 9 to 8 and was blanked at Fans Field in the second, 9 to 0. Mehmken's hurling and home runs by Clauter and Giraitis aided the Blue in annexing its opening conference game over Charleston, 10 to 3.

Two of Millikin's arch rivals—Bradley Tech and Wesleyan—then handed the Blue defeats, 8 to 3 and 6 to 3, respectively. At St. Louis, Hopkins was beaten 3 to 2 by Washington on a squeeze play in the last of the ninth but Mehmken pitched and batted the Blue to a 6 to 3 victory the next day.

Millikin absorbed two more defeats—from Normal 9 to 5 and from Wesleyan 13 to 0, before Hopkins quieted a ninth inning rally to decision Normal, 7 to 5. Charleston next gained revenge for its early season setback by nosing out the Blue, 3 to 2.

Millikin ended its baseball season with a rousing double-header triumph over Eureka. Hopkins hurled effectively in the first tilt to gain a 9 to 3 decision and Mehmken breezed along in the second game as the Blue batters hit everything the Eureka pitchers served up to win 18 to 4. The second game went but four innings, which was just as well.

Members of the varsity baseball squad were Mehmken, Hopkins, Kuhle, Marshall, Lenich, Allan, Craig, Clauter, Giraitis, Lipinski, Spilman, Garriott, and Van Ausdal. Mehmken and Van Ausdal were elected co-captains for 1936.

W. Wayne "Hank" Gill

Intramural

The present Intramural system at James Millikin was established by R. Wayne "Hank" Gill at the beginning of the 1932-33 college year as a branch of the physical education department, and for the fourth consecutive year it has served as a valuable addition to college life. It is the purpose of the department of Intramural Athletics to encourage the men of the student body in competitive athletics and organized recreation.

Intramural athletics are divided into two leagues, namely, Inter-class and Inter-fraternity. All campus championships and inter-squad tournaments are also held for all students regardless of their competition in either of the other leagues. Intramural awards are furnished by the Intramural department and Alpha Omega.

Director of Intramural Athletics Gill was assisted this year by the following students: Intramural manager, Lawrence Kuhle; publicity director, Forrest Kyle; class managers, 1936—Clarence Mitchell; 1937—Paul Lipinski; 1938—Lawrence Kuhle; 1939—Bob Connor. Fraternity managers: Delta Sigma Phi—Hugh Grote; Sigma Alpha Epsilon—Herbert Hall; Tau Kappa Epsilon—Dick Arnold; Independents—Paul Lipinski.

Up until spring vacation only one inter-class tournament had been held. The class of 1937 won the basketball tournament with the class of '39 second, class of '38 third and class of '36 fourth.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon grabbed the lead in the inter-fraternity race by winning the first event of the fall schedule, diamond ball, and at spring vacation held a 30 point advantage. In the diamond ball tournament the other three entries tied for second, the S. A. E.'s finishing undefeated.

Delta Sigma Phi captured the volleyball tournament after a three-way tie necessitated a play-off. The S. A. E.'s finished second, the Tekes third and the Indees fourth. The basketball tournament also developed into a neck and neck battle with the Indees and S. A. E.'s finishing in a tie for first, both having handed each other one defeat. The Indees won the play-off tilt by one point. The Delta Sigs finished third and the Tekes fourth.

The spring program included volleyball, tennis (singles and doubles) and softball for inter-class competition; softball, tennis, golf, horseshoes (singles and doubles) and track for inter-fraternity competition, and tennis, golf, horseshoes, free throwing, boxing and wrestling for individual championships.

Tau Kappa Epsilon won the large intramural trophy last year after a new system of scoring had to be called into use to decide between the Tekes and Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The Indees finished third and the Delta Sigs fourth. Paul Lipinski won the individual championship by taking second in the free throw contest and winning a boxing and wrestling title.
The standings for this year's race at spring vacation:

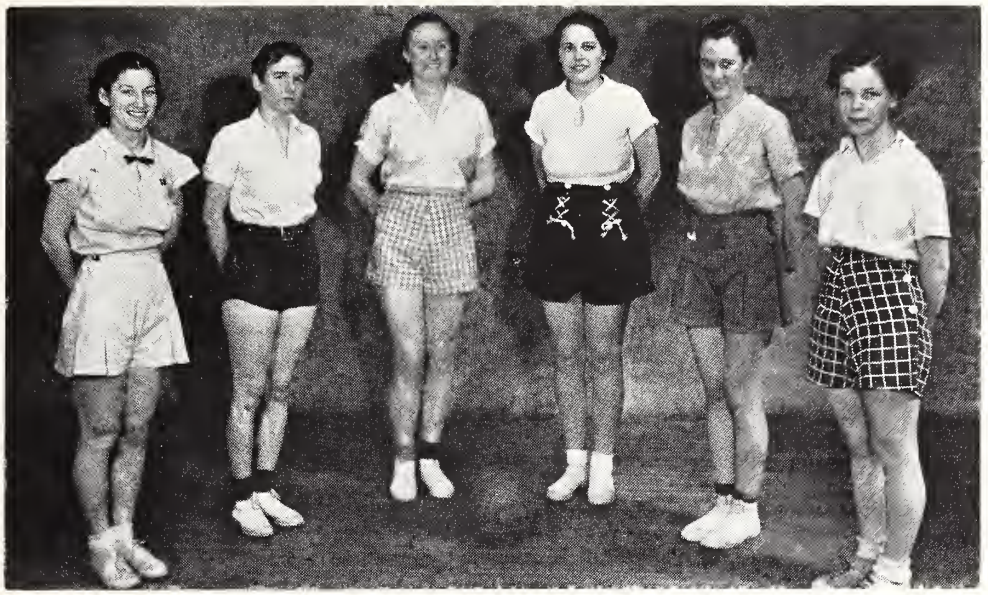
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	375
Delta Sigma Phi	345
Independents	340
Tau Kappa Epsilon	220

FOR NON-VARSITY MEN ONLY . . .

MISS BOBBIE CORDER

Physical education for women of Millikin is under the direction of Miss Bobbie Corder. Through a sincere interest in every student, she has done much to stimulate enthusiasm for the advancement of women's athletics. Miss Corder has classes in beginning basketball and tennis for freshmen and sophomores, advanced basketball and tennis for juniors and seniors, track, tap-dancing, hockey, corrective gym, ping-pong, first aid, shuffle-board, and courses in the teaching of physical education for all senior women who plan to do future work in this field. Although the Women's Athletic Association did not function as an organization this year, under her leadership a large group of women was organized to promote further athletic activity. She directs and arranges all athletic tournaments, and has been very successful in presenting the Little Nineteen tennis tournament held yearly on this campus.

For the past three years she has taken an active part in girl scout work in the city, and teaches first aid courses in the local Y. W. C. A. Miss Corder received her A. B. degree at Millikin, and has done graduate work at the University of Illinois.



Stephenson, Vannier, Brown, Grise, Turney, Baker.

The inter-society annual basketball tournament created a spirit of keen competition this year. Six teams were entered in the tournament, and each team played vigorously to obtain the title.

As was the case in last year's contest, the Independents defeated the Tri-Delts in the finals, to retain the title, which was originally won by other Independents seven years ago, when the first tournament of this kind was introduced at Millikin.

Outstanding players, chosen by Miss Corder and the referees of the games, included: Jessie McKeown, Mary Tuschhoff, Mary Wilson, Emily Jane Wood, Mary Weesner, Lois Crawford, Olive Ruth Martin, Maryhelen Vannier, Lenore Stephenson, Virginia Baker, Martha Brown, Lorraine Greider, Norma Dotson, and Laura Belle Scott. Drawings were made from this group to form two teams, and an exhibition game was played March 23.

Scores from the tournament were:

Delta Delta Delta	22	Pi Beta Phi	11
Pi Beta Phi	14	Zeta Tau Alpha	6
Independents	35	Theta Upsilon	2
Pi Beta Phi	28	Theta Upsilon	5
Independents	8	Zeta Tau Alpha	0

Garver, Vannier, Horn, Baker.

The annual Little Nineteen tennis tournament was played on the Millikin courts in the spring of 1935. Eleven schools were represented, each by two singles and two doubles entries. These schools included: Illinois State Normal, North Central, Blackburn, Shurtleff, Southern State Teachers, Eastern State Teachers, Wheaton, Eureka, Illinois, Rockford, and Millikin.

Miss Wilma Perry of Blackburn, the favorite of last year's tournament, who was defeated in the semi-finals, was victorious this year over Miss Viola Vogt of Illinois State Normal, and won the desired title by a 6-2, 6-0 score. Miss Perry played her hardest game in the tournament perhaps, when she met Miss Helen Kitner of Illinois in the semi-finals. Although she won this match also with an apparently great score of 6-3, 6-2, most of the games reached a deuce deadlock, which lasted several minutes. However, she was always able to obtain the two extra points needed to win each game by her unusual hard drives in the opposite back court. Wheaton College carried away the four individual trophies given to the finalists and semi-finalists in the doubles contest, as their second team entry made up of Miss Irene Sanders and Miss Carol Hahne, defeated the first team composed of Miss Betty Kilbourne and Miss Delle MacKenzie, by the score of 8-6, 3-6, 7-5. This game was perhaps the most hard fought and interesting of the whole tournament.

Millikin was represented by Hazel Nichols and Maryhelen Vannier, singles; and Virginia Baker and Mable Cooper, doubles. This annual tennis tournament is one of the most outstanding athletic events for women held in Decatur, and a great interest is shown not only by students but a great number of townspeople as well.

Shortly after the beginning of the fall semester of school this year, another tennis tournament was given for all women interested here on the campus. Ellen Horn defeated Virginia Garver in the finals to win the local championship title held by Maryhelen Vannier the preceding year.

Stephenson, Garver.

This year eleven contestants, including two seniors, three juniors, one sophomore, and five freshmen, entered the annual ping-pong tournament, which was played during the last two weeks in October. Favorites from the preceding year consisted of: Emily Jane Wood, Maryhelen Vannier, Virginia Baker, and Lenore Stephenson. A new ping-pong set, made according to the present regulation size paddles, proved awkward as the scores from the first rung of the game indicated. Virginia Garver, a freshman, defeated Lenore Stephenson, winner of last year's title, by the close margin of 21-18, 17-21, 21-19, 21-15. Virginia possessed unique skill in rapid returning of the ball, and sliced serves which barely skimmed over the net; while "Stevie's" game consisted largely of good placement shots, and returns which cut across the court with a great degree of speed.

These games were played in the game room, sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association in 1932. Here not only ping-pong but also shuffle-board, archery, and dart throwing furnish amusement to students on cold winter afternoons, when outdoor sports are impossible.

Campus Leaders

LEADERSHIP IN STUDENT COLLEGIATE FIELDS IS GAINED THROUGH PROMINENCE IN MORE THAN EVERYDAY CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES. STUDENTS ARE BEST FITTED TO SELECT FROM THEIR RANKS THOSE WHO THEY BELIEVE HAVE QUALITIES OF LEADERSHIP.

THE MILLIDEK, DESIRING TO HONOR THOSE STUDENTS WHO HAVE IMPRESSED THEIR CLASSMATES AS BEING PRESENT LEADERS AND POTENTIALLY GREATER ONES; WHO HAVE IDEAS AND IDEALS OF THEIR OWN AND THE COURAGE TO FOLLOW THEM; WHO HAVE A SENSE OF PROPORTION, ASKED MEMBERS OF THE JUNIOR CLASS TO VOTE FOR FOUR LEADERS, AND THE SENIOR CLASS TO VOTE FOR EIGHT LEADERS. THE TWO JUNIORS AND SIX SENIORS RECEIVING THE LARGEST NUMBER OF VOTES ARE HONORED ON THE FOLLOWING PAGES. THE MILLIDEK FEELS THAT THE KEENER SENSITIVENESS TO THAT IDEAL WHICH IS MILLIKIN HAS BEEN CLEARLY SHOWN BY THE EIGHT "CAMPUS LEADERS."

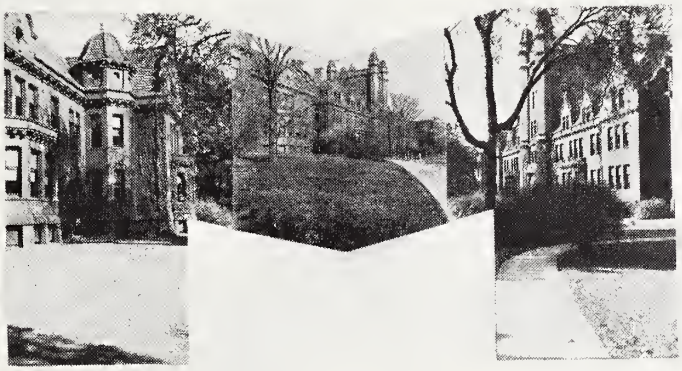
Snaps, Humor, Ads.



Every year for the past four years,
This month has found us drowned in tears,
Of woe for the sad fate which is ours:
To pick up the past months ("Hearts and Flowers")
And piece them together as a finished thing
That was all sweetness, light, and Spring;
To describe the dark days of November
As pleasant gems for one to remember;
To surround each classmate with a tale that will bring
Him back, in '80, as a "rare old thing;"
To act as though we thought mankind
Best formed in body, heart, and mind
At Millikin, our college dear.
Oh, yes, this's a swell time of the year!
But we should moan and tear our hair,
And rant and rave and yell and swear!
We should not! Pals of Lady Luck . . . we can just sit still and pluck
Those stolen apples from the sweetest tree,
And be just as we want to be:
Sweet or coy or nasty-nice,
Or genuine, or cold as ice,
Or mean and cruel, or really sad,
Or even slanderously bad.
We have our classmates under thumb,
And we mean to pur it into some!
That is, we could, but strangely enough
We don't quite feel sarcastic and tough.
We just feel sorry our years are through,
That there are no more Millideks to do,
That our four-year friends will leave in June
And won't return for a long blue-moon.
We're sad, and so we're feeling kind.
Hard hearted readers will please not mind.
Besides, the class of '36 is different . . .
Has no grinds or sticks,
Is made of people about whom we could
Say nothing—nothing—that was not good!

So, though ours is a four-year plight,
And though we'd love to run out and play,
We now sit down, with love, to write
About our friends who are going away!

SUBSTANTIAL Citizen

What makes a "substantial citizen"? Many characteristics; but we've noticed that nearly all such citizens have one trait in common—they began by placing their checking and saving deposits in a sound and helpful bank. Then when they needed credit for constructive purposes that were to make them substantial in a financial sense, they found the bank a most helpful financial friend.

We are proud of our long association with so many local substantial citizens; we gladly anticipate the opportunity of serving many more in the future . . . at all stages of their progress.

We sing the dirge of talent unused;
Of our Wibby's swimming; how it's been abused,
But he doesn't mind
He spends all his time
With Sweney, and is much contused.

★ ★ ★

Because he dares to question rulers
And sees and calls most of us fools—
Because he has an "anti" mind
(At Millikin they're hard to find,
Folks fearing faculty publicity
And subsequent lack of all felicity)
Because he doesn't care, we doff a
Hat to Maxie Klinghoffer.

Fred Christman was the captain

We very sadly feel with her those graduating senior ties.

First of all we'd say that she's
An Alpha Cheese
Then we'd say her heart is weak

And though she can't be called a

She's never "Bob"—
But that's because she's slim and

That's all.
In fact we're glad to double check

The third seems the age of Miss
Glenn.

Three things can be said of Veva June:
She can put the fellas into a swoon
She can take a simple little tune
And make her fiddle speak or croon.
But now her college days are done,
We remember best her love of "fun,"
Her quite unequalled four-year run
On glorifying the lowly pun.

When poetrying on him who's mastered two collegiate arts.

We've often wondered just why it is
That Mary Weesner's as smart as a whiz,
We're jealous, too, 'cause she's so petite;
She's usually got three or four at her feet.
But we think she's swell 'cause we can't forget
She's full of such good-clean-wholesome pep.

If there was money to be made from Town and Gown,
He made it!

Don Craig was a second sacker
On Leo's baseball nine,
He played with much agility
Which was, of course, quite fine.

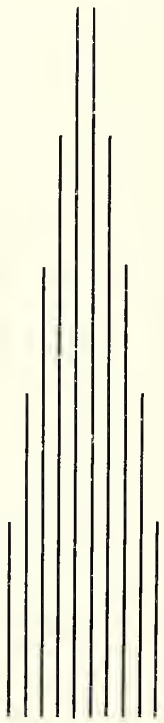
When Millikin had a tennis team
In years that've gone before
One player they could count on
Was Junior "Sammy" Kohr.

★ ★ ★

"Mitchell, Clarence William," we read.
His favorite pastime is to feed
The fish (and others) who sit in the Mill
And sit and sit and let him fill
Them full of stories of blood and gore
And Mitchell's heroic deeds galore.
We don't complain, and we should fuss—
For after all, we love young Bus!

MILLIKIN'S SWEETHEARTS

To the Class of '36



Four years to achieve graduation—a lifetime to achieve success. Already the MUELLER CO. has devoted one lifetime to the service of health and sanitation. To you who are first beginning your steps to a lifetime of success, we who are beginning anew send Congratulations!

ROCKFORD · DECATUR · SPRINGFIELD

Sanks got in these poems last year
For graduating—he's still here
And so we write his name to rhyme
With M. F. Lake's, as it will in time.

We now sit down to write a poem about Annabel McKinney
Who has red hair, and big brown eyes, and is nice and slim (not skinney)
Her quiet sweetness brings her friends that she can count by gangs—
We like her best because Sophomore Annie cut her hair and affected bangs!

★ ★ ★

Another McKinney is Delta Sig Paul
(Prexy, and Alpha Omega, and all)
Who after a hard—and successful —fall
On Tri Delta Prich, hung his pin.
We'd say his life is about to begin!

★ ★ ★

From the hills of Kaintucky
Came Mary E. Trisch
She should have come sooner
Some think she's delisch.

Bud Lewis is the helpmate
In Dr. Don's homelife;
He probably has Don wishing for
Less Lewis and more wife.

★ ★ ★

Another of our gridders brave
Was Mellroy W. Ross
Because he was an active tackle
He never gathered moss.

★ ★ ★

When you're speaking of "What-a-man"
You must remember Mark Moran
A philosopher major, he fools the folks—
He's a whiz at telling dirty jokes.

★ ★ ★

A fella named Clyde Matthew
Needed love, so what did he do?
He knew the girls warm to a nice uniform,
So to prove that to Kemper he's true
He donned breeches and boots, and you
Can be sure he had girls in a sworm.

DECATUR DEPARTMENT STORES

You'll understand, for you know'em,
Why we write these two in a poem.
For Queen Bean and Bean King
Know that love is the thing
So heartiest wishes for good luck we sing
While we calmly map out their lives fo' 'em.

Elmer Morenz needed a kick in the pants
To get himself through college.
So he joined with the Tekes
Became one of the Greeks . . .
And thus gained pollege and knowledge.

Edgar Hammons is one who
Didn't have enough to do
The four years he did struggle through
Our Millikin!
He got his B. S. with the greatest of ease
And then for a while did just as he please
But now he is anxious an A. B. to seize
At Millikin!

A stage,
A closed curtain . . .
(Quite the rage!)
A ladder,
Hung with bucket . . .
(Nothing sadder.)
A smock,
A paint brush . . .
(Now here's the shock!)
Marion Carr
In the middle of all
(And there you are!)

And now that these poems have reached a sad end
We pick up where Jan threw down her sharp pen.
We remind you that Alsip
Rhymes nicely with gossip
But we shouldn't put her on the pan.
'Cause in spite of her tongue
Her praises are sung
Which is just the right thing for our Jan.

So far we've given our attention
To Seniors, and have failed to mention
That before we finish this invention
We have to give the juniors,
The freshmen, and the sophomores
Some space. "The Millidek ignores
The largest group who helped it pay."
(Or not) is one thing they can't say!
So sing hi-de-do and lack-a-day
For those young things who in a year
Or two, or three'll go out from here
Complete—cap, gown, degree, and tear!
Here's to the freshmen! (Bless their hearts.)
Though tyros at the gentle arts
Of writing themes
And sewing seams
And sawing beams
And cheering teams—
They're well-trained in the social line
And make one wish the lot were mine
To wear knee pants,
(Or skirts, perchance)
And love to dance,
And live Romance . . . .
Ah, yes, a young thing's well-equipped—
His lot's indeed a blest one.
For him no scenes of glamor stripped,
And every day's the best one!
A sophomore is a student who
Wants still to act as freshmen do.
He likes to be within the sound
Of music going round and round.
But he must burn the mid-night grease
To stop a dough-from-home decrease.
And so, to keep all fires alive,
He plays till two and crams till five.
Oh, a sophomore's life must be bestrewed
With Grape Nuts as a breakfast food,
And Fleishman's Yeast three times a day,
And Ovaltine, when he hits the hay!
A Junior having learned the ropes,
Finds life extremely simple
He lives up to his family's hopes,
And trouble's but a pimple!
